

Self-Forming Teams: A Facilitator's Guide to Transforming the Organization & Culture

AGILE2017 Session Information

Date/Time: Thursday, August 10th 2017 – 3:45 PM – 5:00 PM

Presenters: Adam Hsu, Gabe Abella

Session Learning Outcome: In this dynamic simulation workshop attendees will learn the techniques to facilitate a team self-formation event, which will allow people to self-select into cross-functional teams that are fully capable of delivering features for their Product Owners. The goal is to teach attendees how to transform typically large traditional delivery organizations into scaled scrum (or other agile framework) teams.

NOTE: This session will not cover “what is” a self-formed team nor “why” self-formed teams provide the optimal approach for true engagement of team members working in an agile framework. It is highly recommended for anyone planning to attend this session to listen to Adam Weisbart's Agile Answers Podcast – Episode 19 – How should we form Scrum teams.
